Happy Scrappers

Last months meeting was held at the Beaumont Art League. Although I did not stay for the whole afternoon, I enjoyed the meeting segment. I so enjoy this group. On to bee busine

1. This months meeting was going to be at the Family life center at the henning church. Its been changed to the Fellowship Hall in the Henning church, which is directly across from the Mustard seed. Go to the website for those directions. Jo Anns husband will be smoking chickens. So bring a dish to go with that to share. Meeting time is 9:30- 2:30. Im not sure if we can bring machines or not. Ill send out an email when I find out.

2. Update on due projects. Angel wants to push her project due date to early next year. Possibly Jan. Others wanted to participate and have more time to work on them. The honey comb (hosted by Linda Johnson) is due this month. Carolyns project is due this month, with the possibility of exchanging again for the next few months. So if you've finished any bring them this month. I realize that the website still has sept as the due dates on all projects. Ill try to get that corrected at the meeting. Honestly im not sure whats due when. My notes reflect the information I've put here. Carolyn due Sept. Barbara's due Sept. Angel's due Jan 2011. MY project WHO KNOWS. Do I seem a little confused?

3. Here is an update from sylvia.

Dear, dear friends;

I am at home now and recovering quite nicely. I'm still a bit wobbly at times and need to rest fairly frequently but I think it won't be long before I am back to my usual activities. I want to thank all of you for your concern, the visits, the cards. I truly did not know I knew so many people and that so many people cared. I wish I could say I would do the same for you but that would wish something pretty horrible to happen to you--and I think my adventure is enough for all of you.

Again, from the bottom of my heart thank you.

See yall at the meeting.
