

Happy Scrapper June Newsletter

Well, here we are June 1, and the temperature is in the 90s today. Hello, Summer.

We had such a good time at our May meeting. Thank you Pat for opening up your home to us. You are a very gracious hostess.

June meeting will be hosted by LeNell and Barbara at the Groves library, 11:00, June 14. They will furnish roasted chicken and potato salad. Let's bring side dishes and dessert. Be sure to let us know if you do not plan to be there so the hostesses can have a good headcount. Thanks everyone for your cooperation.

Linda T sent me a picture of the completed wool quilt. I have a backing fabric that I think would go very well. We will bring both to the next meeting to make sure it meets with your approval. We need someone to quilt it. If we have a volunteer from our group, that would be great, otherwise, I'm going to call Jo Caraway and get on her queue.

Helen is hosting the Snappy Squares exchange. 30 blocks are due for exchange in August. The instructions are on the website. Y'all, this is going to make such a pretty quilt. Everyone will be glad or wish they had participated. happyscrappersbee.com

Reminder of the challenge due for the Christmas party, make a quilt using panels. We plan to have a judged category at the show. You will need to register an entry in the show under the category Happy Scrapper Panel Challenge.

Don't forget to bring Show and Tell. That's the best part of the meeting. And the food.

Happily yours,
Carol.....
